POSITION:

Senior Lecturer in Psychology, University of Northampton, UK (2014 - current).

Resident trainer, EIST, Milan (2009 - current).

PROGRAMME/FACULTY RESPONSIBILITIES:

I am currently Course Leader for MSc Counselling with Children and Young People. My contribution is mainly at PG programs level, whereas, besides my commitment to project and convene contents for MSc CCYP, I also entertain collaboration with our CYP-IAPT Systemic Family Practice Program, MSc CAMHS and MSc Counselling.

At Undergraduate Level, my contribution revolves mainly around areas such as mental health (both children and adults), clinical psychology and therapeutic approaches.

I recently started collaborating as a supervisor for Phd students.

TEACHING & RESEARCH SUBJECT INTEREST:

Clinical Psychology
Mental Health and Psychopathology
Therapeutic approaches
Adoption and foster care
Family Therapy
Family life cycle and communication

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

I have been teaching psychology, family process and systemic psychotherapy since 2002.

I began lecturing for University Chair of Psychology in 2003, during my PhD, and have always been lecturing on subjects like Clinical Psychology, Psychopathology and Family Process thereafter.

Since qualifying as a Systemic Therapist, I started my job as a Therapist Trainer for younger colleagues (European Institute of Systemic-relational Therapies).

While teaching to future psychologists and psychotherapist, I have always kept an eye on training and teaching for social workers and professional educators in order to improve their

Besides this part of my teaching activity, which has to be considered strictly clinical, I have always been lecturing and training professionals in the areas of mediation and conflict negotiation.

I currently hold the position of Senior Lecturer at the University of Northampton and Course Leader for MSc Counselling with Children and Young People.

In 2016 I temporarily left the role of Course Leader for CCYP, as I was asked to enter the collaborative board of East Midlands CYP IAPT programme, where I am Course Leader for the PG Diploma in Systemic Family Practice.

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE:

I have been practicing as a Clinical Psychologist and Psychotherapist since 2002.
